

Marketplace Ministry

C E R T I F I C A T E

Introduction to Marketplace Ministry: This course provides the student with an overview of the calling, vocation, and mission, and work of marketplace ministers.

Work and the Bible: This course will provide a survey of what the Bible says about work. It begins by considering the identity and character of the worker. It then explores the nature and importance of work, as well as the money generated. It concludes by considering the workplace, both in terms of its challenges and its opportunities. This course will provide biblical knowledge and exposure to many available resources. The student will have opportunity to develop the skills, as well as the disposition needed, to become a marketplace minister.

Social Science and Work: This course introduces students to the concepts of work, vocation, and human well being from the perspective of the social sciences.

Leadership in the Marketplace: This course prepares students to lead in the marketplace and ministry settings. Students will explore four key areas of leadership development: defining effective leadership, people management, organizational health, and leading change. Through a series of self-assessments, application exercises, and reflection, students will develop a leadership playbook that will equip them for their present and future leadership responsibilities.

Models of Marketplace Ministry: This course provides a survey of marketplace ministry models.
